Revenues, Bills Show Increase Over Last Year

NOT FOR SALE

Missouri produced at least two famous outspoken men in the past century. And actor James Whitmore characterizes one as the late President Harry S. Truman in "Give 'Em Hell, Harry."

The movie opened Wednesday throughout the country, but a premiere showing in Temple Tuesday suggests Whitmore's Truman is going to be a testy delight for millions of viewers.

It is in the format of a television special of a one-man show about Samuel Clements or Mark Twain so popular a few years ago.

Truman's language and mannerisms lend themselves to Whitmore's recreation, filmed before a live audience. At times, the applause from the screen audience and the theater audience is indistinguishable.

A good deal of the material came from Truman's lengthy interviews with Merle Miller which became "Plain Speaking," a best seller during 1974.

That Truman was decisive is established early on in the film. He calls his wife "Boss" but tells the audience how he gets out of chores by doing them on Sunday in conflict with traditional observation of the Sabbath.

At times, Truman sounds like anything but a religious man, which he apparently was. He was also a drinking man and one of the boys, one of the common people whose greatest political feat was beating New York's Thomas Dewey for the presidency in 1948.

Truman's certainty about things was steeped in a heavy reading in history and a horrendous sense of right and wrong and patriotism. Put together by Whitmore, this screen

Truman is believable and in retrospect enviable in the ability to shape world events by the simple logic of an honest man.

Whitmore shows Truman as a courageous opponent of bigotry, hypocrisy of whatever kind and economic totalitarianism which shattered common people by intent.

Truman probably knew more cuss-words than a Missouri mule skinner. And he used most of them in the White House.

But they seem innocent by the standards of this generation, anachronistic and honestly felt in the Truman era when right and wrong was more a matter of choice than accident. HST was of that generation which was convinced it could control events. And to incredible degree, he influenced them.

Whitmore plays it out to a standing ovation to the audience on the screen. Some of the scenes are so direct, yet somehow are reminiscences of historic confrontations subverted by the ambivalent Johnson and Nixon transition years.

Harry Truman punctuates his certainties with more than "gee whiz." He punches Richard Nixon and Douglas MacArthur and Joseph McCarthy right in their platitudes. Their greatest "sins," no doubt, were being Republican.

Whitmore makes sure you see how Harry sees a world he made complex. And this characterization implies that maybe, maybe a direct man one day in the future will unravel some perplexities and put Earth in control of some part of the universe. This ol' spaceship is going to need the HST touch.

Whitmore's Harry S. Truman saw enormous honor in public service. He was not for sale.

SNAKE COUNTRY VANISHES under the willing hands of garden clubbers and members of the Chamber Auxiliary, who met Tuesday morning for a good cleanup. The ladies will take care of the five plots of land on the courthouse end of the mall and will plant more ground cover. Contributions will be welcome for plants at 20 cents a piece.

Council Denys Rezoning Lot, Hears Dog Troubles Again

The city council Tuesday finally voted unanimously to deny rezoning a lot in West Cameron after the matter had been on the agenda for several meetings.

Request came from Hubert Knight, owner of the Ebony Club which has to be relocated because of a proposed park near O. J. Thomas school. Knight, who was present at the meeting, said he would take the case to court.

A delegation of women appeared before the council and asked that something be done about the dog problem, another perennial item on the agenda. Spokesman Mrs. Peggy Davis told of dogs disturbing the peace, turning over garbage cans, and doing other damage.

Mayor Pro-tem Lawrence Zolt authorized Police Chief Kent Butler to make a study of repairing the city dog pound and purchasing a tranquilizer gun for use in catching dogs. Also, Councilman Gene Lumpkin will contact Brenham to see how it solved a similar problem. Lumpkin also advised use of a very large fine to recover dogs in the pound.

In other business, council: --Gave Fleur de Lis Garden Club permission to place 20 red, white, and blue flower pots on the mall to be planted with appropriate seasonal flowers.

--Agreed to install a street light near the Business and Professional Women's club house at 4th and Milam.

--Approved the second reading of an ordinance increasing gas rates in the city.

--Voted to purchase paint for the new tennis courts at a cost of $1,800.

--Agreed to purchase fluorescent flags and vests for firemen to use when they have to direct traffic on highways.

--Discussed and authorized placing buttons on streets to finish marking the downtown area.

--Was asked if anything can be done about people who go to fires and hinder firemen. Butler said a state law prohibits following emergency vehicles.

--Heard code enforcement officer Edwin Bigbee recommend that city hall be made a clearinghouse for all complaints, which then would be routed to the proper place.

When it came time to pay bills, council questioned a bill for paving on 11th and Cleveland Streets. A full report on authorization for the paving will be made at the next meeting.

Good Turn Day Has Kickoff For '75 Drive

The kick-off meeting for the 1975 Good Turn Day Drive was held at 7:30 p.m. September 24 in the Heart O' Texas Goodwill Industries cafeteria.

Set for Sunday, November 2, Good Turn Day is an annual drive for the Heart O' Texas Goodwill Industries by the Heart O' Texas Council of Scouts, for repairable clothing and household articles to be used in Goodwill's rehabilitation workshops through the year in training the handicapped to become self-supporting.

Scout executives from eight districts will meet with Goodwill executive s to formulate plans for the drive. Ben Kelln, Scout executive of the Heart O' Texas Council of Boy Scouts of America, is in charge of the project. General Chairman of Good Turn Day Drive is Carroll Dawson, head basketball coach at Baylor University.

Approximately 10,000 scouts will participate in the November 2 drive for donations of wearable and repairable clothes and household items. The discards collected will be used in Goodwill's rehabilitation facility to teach employment skills to handicapped people.

The reconditioned items are sold in one of the ten Goodwill Thrift Stores located in Waco, Temple, Killen, Hillsboro, Harker Heights, Mexia, and Copperas Cove. Bags will be distributed by the Scouts the last week in October. Area residents will be asked to fill them with usable items. The Scouts will pick up the donations on Sunday, November 2.

"It takes about five Goodwill Bags a day to provide employment for one person," said A. P. Garrett, executive director. Normally, the primary source of donations is the 82 Goodwill collection boxes located throughout the city of Waco and surrounding areas.

"We are dependent on this nationwide project between the Scouts and Goodwill Industries to have a continuing supply of material to be used throughout the year in training the handicapped. In order for the Heart O' Texas Goodwill Industries to expand and reach more people for its program, donations must greatly increase," said Garrett.

Dove Hunter Fatally Shot Near Milano

A 22-year old Dallas man was shot and killed Sunday in a hunting accident near Milano. The man's family, who were at a tank while he went dove hunting, said they did not know how it happened.

Sheriff Carl Black identified the victim as David Casarez Jr. and said Casarez was hunting doves with his younger brothers Timothy, 16, and Ira, 10, at about 6 p.m. when he received a single wound in the chest from a .22 rifle.

Black said he did not know who did the shooting, but he said evidence indicates Casarez shot himself accidentally.

The three brothers and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Casarez Sr., were at a stock tank on the edge of Milano, where they had lived before moving to Dallas.

He said Casarez' parents took him to St. Edward Hospital in Cameron, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. The body was taken to Marek - Burns - Laywell Funeral Home in Cameron, Black said.

Volunteer Program To Handle Child Abuse

A volunteer citizens program to help with child abuse and neglect cases in Milam County gets into full swing this week, according to Yvetta Phillips, Treatment Services Coordinator for the Central Texas Council of Government's Child Abuse and Neglect Demonstration Organization (CAN-DO).

The program called VIA (Volunteers in Action) will be operational first in Bell, Milam, and Coryell Counties; then will be expanded to cover all seven counties in the CTCOG area.

"Central Texas has one of the highest rates of child abuse and neglect cases in the state," said Donna Garret, unit supervisor for the Department of Public Welfare, co-sponsors of the VIA program. "In addition, parents under stress who abuse and neglect their children and children who are abused and neglected need a special kind of help," she said. "So we have our work cut out for us," she added.

VIA participants will work with the professional staffs of both DPW and CAN-DO, and they will assist with such services as transportation, school-lesson tutoring, big brother/big sister programs, home making, emergency babysitting, and day care. In addition, contributions of food for families in crisis, wearable clothes, and functional toys for foster children are needed.

There are 53 known cases of child abuse and neglect in Milam County, 22 of which are in Cameron. There are 868 child abuse and neglect cases in the seven-county CTCOG region.

For more information about the VIA program call Donna Garret at 817-778-6751 in Temple, or Yvetta Phillips at 817-939-1801 in Belton.

Pay Deer Hunts Require Permits, No Game Book

Landowners who open their property to hunters for a fee will find two changes in the law which should work to their benefit.

License officials at the Parks and Wildlife Department say this is the first year that a graduated schedule of fees will be charged landowners who apply for a "Shooting Preserve" license.

Those who lease less than 500 acres to hunters will be charged $10; 500 acres but less than 1,000, $25; and those with 1,000 acres or more will pay $40 for their Shooting Preserve license.

This also is the first year that Shooting Preserve license-holders are not required to maintain a game preserve book which recorded the hunters by name and their kill.

In the past the game book had to be returned to the P&WD but department officials said that such books were expensive to print and mail, and the harvest information they contained was of limited value.

County School District To Share $50,400 Grant

The Milam County school district will share in a $50,400 grant for adult basic education (ABE) and graduate equivalency diploma (GED) programs for the 1975 school year.

Milam County is part of an ABE-GED cooperative that includes Burleson, Robertson, and most of Lee counties.

The Milam County school district acts as fiscal agent for the co-op. Classes are conducted in Cameron, Rockdale, Thorndale, Hearne, Calvert, Giddings, and Lyons.

Milam County Supt. Max McClaren said classes are planned in Milano, Caldwell, and Somerville.

The classes, text, and workbooks for the classes are free to adults over 17 years of age.

Firemen Answer Call

Volunteer firemen were called Saturday morning to the Jack Logan house, where fire started in an electrical short. Very little fire damage was reported but the house suffered considerable smoke damage.

Pecan Show Scheduled For November

The 1975 Milam County Pecan and Foods Show is tentatively scheduled for Saturday, November 8, according to County Agent Bill McCutchen.

"As some of the earlier varieties begin to hull, producers and homeowners should save a quart of their better pecans per variety and plan to enter them in this year's show," McCutchen said.

McCutchen can enter one sample per variety and as many native or seedling varieties as he wishes.

The year 1975 started off looking like a bumper pecan year, McCutchen said, "but a little bit of everything has happened to this year's crop."

The walnut caterpillar stripped pecan trees over the county a few weeks ago and pecan scab has been extra severe this year with all of the wet, humid weather in the area.

"In spite of these problems, many producers and homeowners have done an exceptional job of pecan production and should be proud enough of their results to enter the 1975 Pecan show," he added.

Final date and place for the show will be announced later.

Car Slides On Wet Pavement, Three Injured

A two-car accident during heavy rain Saturday morning sent three persons to a Temple hospital, where one remains in serious condition.

The accident occurred around 11 a.m. two miles west of Buckholts. A car driven by Ronald Rogers of Ft. Hood went out of control on wet pavement and struck a car driven by Frank Lopez of Bryan.

Others in the Lopez car were Melba Lopez and John Lopez, also of Bryan. Frank and Melba were treated and released at Scott and White Hospital in Cameron, and John was admitted in serious condition.

DPS Trooper Don Wardlaw of Rockdale investigated the accident.

Quality Of Life...

Your Herald is fascinated by the results of a study on quality of life in cities over half million, between 200,000 and half a million and under 200,000 done by the Midwest Research Institute, of Kansas City.

Texas fared not too well in "outstanding" categories against other cities. The West Coast had the largest number of outstanding metro areas over half million. San Antonio scored substandard. Dallas, Houston, Fort Worth were among the good categories of largest cities.

Measurement was in five categories: Economy, politics, environment, health-education, and social concern. Material was accumulated from 1970, a census year, but was the latest available for the 1973 study. Officials in the Institute concede quality of life means "different things to different people."

But by these standards, the South had none in the top 10 in the three population categories.

The Midwest had 15 metro areas in the top 10 of the three categories, the West Coast eight, the Northeast five, and the Mountain States two.

It is encouraging to this newspaper and the leaders of this area that Cameron has worked so diligently against the small-city grain to upgrade itself to state-wide recognition. Fort Worth was included in that recognition within its population range, which by association places Cameron among the medium range of community standards. That is nationally.

Five years ago, the quality of life here would have been in the sub-standard categories. Indeed portions of this community are only now getting the attention to erase that condition.

Small cities, under 200,000 to half million, are a staple of the Midwest. That is why the Midwest scored so high in this rating. Incidentally, this project was a multi-million dollar study, not just some mail survey.

It is to Cameron's credit we have risen to the need of the 1970s. It is another reason this community, which has gone so far in five years, is among national leaders in community development.

A town of approximately 6,000 is too small for evaluation in such a study. But we have done a more thorough self-evaluation through every other means available to us.

The results are obvious throughout the community and spreading daily.

There are a lot of Texas and Southern communities which would learn by the examples of towns like Cameron and cities like Fort Worth, Houston, and Dallas.

Constitution Campaigns Generating Heat

Campaigns for and against the proposed new state constitution already are generating lots of heat.

Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association and Texas Association of Broadcasters got a broad introduction in a day-long pro and con seminar here last week.

A day later, Citizens for the Texas Constitution, leaders of the revision change, held their statewide kick-off meeting launching a six-weeks public information effort before the November 4 election.

The opposition group, Citizens to Preserve the Texas Constitution (the present one, that is), already was doing lots of kicking. Its statewide steering committee broadened steadily, picking up such members as former Gov. Preston Smith and Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr.

Former Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, head of the revision forces, summarized arguments for the new constitution:

Eight proposals on the November 4 ballot modernize Texas' basic laws and "provide benefits for the people which cannot be achieved under the old document."

Further, argued Calvert, the revision submitted by the legislature would "go a long way to stop wasteful spending in state government and provide equity and relief for the individual taxpayer."

Not so, countered Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler for the opposition. The new document would "lead to new taxes on an unprecedented scale," contended McKnight. Further, he maintained, it would give the legislature "power to do about anything it wants at the expense of the people."

Much opposition, as anticipated, centered on proposed annual legislative sessions and a commission to pass on legislators' salaries. Tax provisions also came under heavy opposition fire.

Highways Slated

If costs keep going up and income doesn't, the State Highway Department says in another six or seven years it may have barely enough money to maintain the present 71,000-mile road system.

Major new construction could be out of the question if the state hasn't the cash to match federal building funds. Gasoline tax and motor vehicle registration income, which traditionally increased at six or seven per cent a year, is no longer growing much. Meanwhile, construction costs have doubled since 1967.

The Highway Department, as explained here previously, is studying its manpower needs with a view to reduced payrolls. Some districts already have reduced their work forces.

Mowing along highway rights-of-way also has been reduced to save money.

Discount Expiring

Ten percent discounts on auto insurance premiums for 35,000 Texans may be lost this fall unless they re-take intensive driving courses.

Those who passed the National Safety Council course in accident avoiding three years ago can renew their discount eligibility for an additional 36 months by completing another eight-hour course.

New films and visual aids, new information on traffic laws, driving habits, road design and engineering innovations are available, according to State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie.

More than 400,000 Texans have completed the course during the last three years, and statistics indicate they have 32 per cent fewer accidents, Christie said. The discount is also available to motorcycle operators.

Courts Speak

A federal judge in Washington, D. C. refused to block publication of Census Bureau statistics which will bring Texas under punitive provisions of the federal Voting Rights Act. Further appeals are under consideration.

A Belton man who shot another because he feared a karate chop lost an appeal from a 99-year prison sentence for murder.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

You hear a lot these days about permissiveness, about how parents are letting their children do as they please with some unhappy results, but you don't hear anything about the lack of permissiveness by children toward their parents.

I mean, while it's true that a lot of children, under the philosophy of letting them flower without hindrance, of leaning over backwards to avoid suppressing their personalities or damaging their free spirits, have turned into rather strange teen-agers, nobody seems to be studying the effects children have on their parents.

While the children are demanding freedom for themselves, have they ever stopped to ask if they're being too stern, too firm, too dictatorial with their parents? In many households the child's demands, not his needs, come first. Life is ordered around his whims.

I'll tell you, if kids don't relax, loosen up, get a little more lenient with grown-ups, they're going to take all the fun out of parenthood.

Why hasn't the parent got the right to be just as peculiar as his child? It's sort of like professional football players, after striking against the owners, being shocked and outraged at the owners' striking against them.

Actually, I don't know which is the better system for bringing up a child, being stern or being lenient, but I suspect the goal of most parents is about the same - to try to see that our kids don't do what we did when we were kids.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Gas Priced Like Apples*

"How much are your apples?" only 29 cents, too." asks the housewife of the grocer, so goes the story. Which is a long way, perhaps, of getting around to the point.

"Forty-nine cents a pound," the grocer replies. Natural gas in Texas sells for up to $1.90 per 1,000 cubic feet. And Texans have gas.

The housewife registers surprise and exclaims: "Henry's apples are only 29-cents."

"Why don't you buy your apples from Henry?" responds the merchant.

"He doesn't have any apples," she says.

"If I didn't have any apples," the grocer explodes, "mine would be

But in non-producing states, where the price of imported gas is controlled at 51 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, there is no new gas to be bought.

If we didn't have gas, our price would be 51 cents, too. But we couldn't buy gas either.

Shoving Events To Ford...

Double well, another shot at a president.

Gerald Ford is a lucky man. Another woman tried to pump a .38 round into him outside a San Francisco hotel. She missed. The last time, a woman merely pointed a gun at him.

In both cases, the weapon was knocked askew so it was either not fired or misaimed. Authorities say Ms. Fromme didn't have a round in the chamber of the weapon she pointed at Mr. Ford. But he didn't know that.

The round left the chamber of that .38 in the hand of Miss Sarah Jane Moore, 45, before the weapon was seized. She joins Ms. Fromme on charges of attempting to murder a president. Both are getting psychiatric examinations.

The President made a strong statement reaffirming a president's need to meet the American public Monday night. He said he nor any public official, Democrat or Republican, should allow a few persons to intimidate the mobility of the nation's leaders.

Unless we misread events and unless someone does get this president, Mr. Ford is gaining a political edge here that may yet rival the Kennedy mystique after John Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas.

The stalwart Midwesterner is being challenged by unstable people in doing what presidents always do: shake hands and mingle.

He quite likely sees this the same kind of challenge that football represented to the young Jerry Ford, who led an all-state Michigan high school champion and a University of Michigan team.

He couldn't ask for a better scenario or a more dangerous one. But if he wants a four-year term of his own, distraught ladies like Ms. Fromme and Moore are shoving events his way.

Thorndale Rancher Is Callie Giant Booster

THORNDALE Roy Poe, Thorndale Polled Hereford breeder, is enthusiastic about a new variety of grass he has growing in a test plot and believes it may be the salvation of cattle-men because of fast development and good nutrition.

The grass is Callie giant Bermudagrass, and it is performing better growthwise than Bahala, Coastal Bermudagrass, or Aliciagrass. Poe claims his Callie Giant has grown as much as 15 feet since he planted it July 4.

Blades of the grass vary from 1/4 to 3/8 inch wide and it roots from joints in the tubers. Poe said it is reported to be the first grass out in the spring and the last to die in the fall. "It's hard to freeze out because of its massive root system," he says.

Callie Giant is a product of the bermudagrass selection and evaluation program at the Mississippi Agricultural and Forestry Experiment Station. It was developed in 1964.

The station has distributed the grass to many people for testing but definite results have not yet been tabulated.

Callie Giant seems to be adapted to the same general climatic conditions as Coastal, said J. N. Pratt, forage specialist for the Texas A&M System.

Poe figures a rancher should be able to run a cow to an acre—easy. He said he expects to get about 8,000 pounds of hay per acre. Poe said Callie is 5 percent higher in protein than Coastal or Aliciagrass.

Poe said he planted 10 bushels of Callie, and he and his wife sprigged a half acre by hand. He plowed two acres of sprigs but he said he plowed too deep and killed most of it. It is still growing, but not as good as the other.

Poe said he is using a high nitrogen fertilizer with a sizeable amount of sulphur. He said the grass needs lots of nitrogen for its root system. Callie apparently responds to fertilization similar to other Bermudas such as Coastal, Pratt said.

Callie has show tolerance to 4-D and simazine herbicides in Mississippi tests, Poe said. He added that the hotter it gets the more Callie grows. He reports growth of two to four inches a day.

"The cattle business is so bad that many ranchers may go broke, but I'll go out trying," Poe said. "With Callie, I can at least improve my tonnage of hay and my pastures."

Poe may be reached for more information at Poe and Son Polled Hereford Ranch, phone 898-2478 at Thorndale.

Producing More Rice
U.S. rice growers have increased acreage yields nearly 70 percent since 1960. Big factors behind the increase are improved weed control and higher-yielding, more disease-resistant plants.

Serving will start at 5 p.m. and the bar will open at 3 p.m. A dance will start at 8 p.m.

Three guest speakers will include T. A. Cunningham of Goliad, president of the ICA of Texas; Darrell McDonald of Brenham, in charge of the foreign export program for the Texas Department of Agriculture; and Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, member of the Texas House in Austin.

"The Country Image" will be providing the music for the dance. The public is invited and admission for the dance will be $2 for the band.

Vanishing Farm Land
More than 160 million acres in the United States have gone out of farm production since the late 1800's. That's the equivalent of about three-fifths of the nation's harvested cropland today.

A NEW CROP—Sunflowers are one of the new oilseed crops being investigated for possible Blackland use (others are guar and soybeans). Seed are valued for their oil and meal.

Cattlemen Must Decide Disposal Of Calves

Cattlemen are in the business of making a living by raising calves. But for the past year - and a half they've had more calves than the market has demanded, and prices have plummeted sharply. Calves are still abundant, and now cattlemen must decide what steps to take with the fall and winter months approaching.

What are the alternatives? Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, offers a few possibilities as to what the individual cattlemen can do with his calves. He also discusses the advantages and disadvantages of each alternative.

1. Sell the calves right now. Calf prices are expected to move lower in the next few months, so current market prices are maybe tops for a while. With the calves gone, a cattleman could concentrate on culling his cow herd.

On the other hand, holding onto the calves would yield heavier weights that are more desirable in the market; the price forecasts could be wrong. Total dollars are what really counts - not the price per pound.

2. Winter pasture the calves and sell them in the spring. This would boost calf weights, and spring market strength should bring calf prices up possibly $5 to $6 from the fall lows. Low cost gain on pasture should allow a fairly low break - even price for such feeders. With this option, cattlemen must risk both weather and disease problems.

A large amount of winter pasturing of calves would probably keep down the spring price rise. Assuming that calf prices do dip in the next month or two, a cattleman may be ahead to sell his calves now and buy others later to overwinter on pasture. This option requires an immediate decision since winter pastures must be planted early.

3. Rough winter the calves and sell them in the spring. With a cheap feed source, calves would put on weight at a low cost and cattlemen could take advantage of spring price gains.

There is even a greater risk here due to weather and disease problems and these could greatly affect gains. Furthermore, feed will be expensive this winter unless a cheap feed source can be locked in. Large supplies of calves held over the winter will limit spring price gains.

There is even a greater risk here due to weather and disease problems and these could greatly affect gains. Furthermore, feed will be expensive this winter unless a cheap feed source can be locked in. Large supplies of calves held over the winter will limit spring price strength.

4. Feed the calves to slaughter weight. Risk from weather and disease should be minimal and gain should be consistent and substantial. If the feeding is done in a custom feedlot, expert management will handle the calves. On the negative side, high feed costs will force high break - even prices for finished animals.

And there is price uncertainty in the fed cattle market. Holding the animals will cost money and will involve risk but could yield greater returns.

"Whichever decision the cattleman decides to make, it must be his decision and must be based on his own particular set of circumstances," points out Uvacek.

Cotton Report

Market activity for the week ending September 19 has been slow as farmers and buyers do not generally agree on an acceptable price, reports J. B. Russ, of ficer in charge, Austin Classing Office. According to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, cotton oil in small mixed lots of grade 21, staples 35 and 36, mike 3.5-4.9 was selling for 50 cents in the Winter Garden areas. In the Central Texas Blackland s mixed lots of grades 41, 32, and 42, staple 32, and 33, mike 3.5-4.9, sold for 44 to 45 cents.

About The Same... But Not For Pecans... Soybeans, Peanuts, Sorghum, Cotton Have It In Common... Family Land Heritage Oct. 14.

Texas cattle on feed as of Sept. 1 shows just about the same numbers as a month ago, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service at Austin notes.

Cattle on feed as of Sept. 1 in Texas totaled 1,337,000 head; this is one per cent above a month ago. But it is 24 per cent below a year ago.

In the seven major cattle feeding states, the number on feed as of Sept. 1 is estimated at 5,944,000 head. This is 13 per cent below a year ago, but is virtually the same as a month ago.

WHILE MOST COMMODITY reports for Texas are unchanged from a month ago, the Texas pecan prospects are bright, especially compared to a year ago. Texas pecan production for 1975 is estimated at 58 million pounds. That's 53 per cent more than a year ago.

In spite of problems of powdery mildew, shuckworms, walnut caterpillars and webworms as well as scab, most areas of the state still report the best crop set for several years. Harvest will begin soon on early-maturing varieties.

WHAT DO COTTON, sorghum, peanuts, and soybeans have in common this year? The latest crop report shows that projected yields are about the same as a month ago.

But for corn, the story is different. Corn production in the state this year will be the second best on record. Only 1920 will top the 1975 corn production for Texas. Per acre yield for the state will be similar to midwest corn production states. An average of 105 bushels per acre is now indicated for Texas.

Cotton production for the state this year is now set at 3,025,000 bales. This is up considerably from the 2,462,000 bales of a year ago. The average per acre yield this season is now set at 363 pounds; a year ago it was a puny 269 pounds per acre.

Sorghum production for this year in Texas is 394,400,000 bushels, virtually unchanged from a month ago. Last year, however, the production of sorghum in Texas was only 312,000,000 bushels. Average per acre is 58 bushels this year compared to 52 bushels per acre in 1974.

Peanut production is estimated at 474,300,000 pounds, about the same as a month ago. Last year, production of peanuts in the state totaled only 73,500,000 bushels.

Soybean production for the state is set at 9,100,000 bushels, the same as a year ago.

The next general crop report will note any changes in these and other crops; that report is due Oct. 10.

FAMILY LAND HERITAGE recognition program will be held Oct. 14 at the State Fair of Texas. The Family Land Heritage Program honors those families in Texas which have owned and farmed through their descendants the same farm continuously for 100 years or more.

A special program honoring recipients for this year is now being planned.

The program is sponsored by the Texas Department of Agriculture. Last year, more than 500 Texas families were honored.

Swine Committeemen Invited To Meeting

Dr. W. B. Thomas, extension service swine specialist from Texas A&M University, will meet with the Milam County Swine Committee on Tuesday, Sept. 30 at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Conference Room of the First National Bank in Cameron.

Dr. Thomas will meet with the committee to make final plans for an educational meeting in the county on swine production scheduled for December 9 of this year. Plans will also be developed for programs in 1976.

This meeting will provide committeemen with an opportunity to plan educational programs that they feel will meet the needs of swine producers in the county.

All swine committeemen are invited to attend this meeting.

Number Of U.S. Farms Seems To Be Stabilizing

The number of farms in the United States appears to be stabilizing. A recent USDA estimate shows 2,819,000 farms will be operated in the nation this year. That's down only four-tenths of one percent from 1974.

TEXAS TALK

By Skip Hobbs

Federal permits for irrigation ditches? A possibility according to some agricultural authorities concerned over recent governmental definitions affecting the Federal Water Pollution Control Act. Keeping things in limbo is the definition of the term, "waters of the United States", which is used in determining the scope of the act. Agricultural authorities are concerned over a definition utilized by the Environmental Protection Agency which could include, "all lakes, rivers and streams within a state which are used by interstate travelers for recreation or other purposes, or which are used by interstate commerce, including agriculture." An article in the NEBRASKA FARMER quotes Dayle E. Williamson of the Nebraska Natural Resources Commission as warning that "if the broad interpretation of the waters and lands affected is adopted, permits may be required for an enormous range of activities."

Scholarship Open To Class

"Bicentennial Seniors," a nationwide $250,000 scholarship program for high school seniors who will graduate with the Class of 1976, is being launched this month by the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

One national winner will receive a $10,000 scholarship and 102 state winners will receive $1000 grants under the program.

Winners will be selected first locally, then on a statewide level. Two graduating seniors will be chosen in each state and the District of Columbia. Each of the 102 winners will also receive an all-expense-paid trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, from January 16 through 19 to attend seminars and hear noted speakers discuss educational and social issues facing this country today. The national winner will be selected during the Williamsburg conference.

Students taking part in the "Bicentennial Seniors" competition must demonstrate an understanding of America's past and possible directions for the future and an involvement in the social and community issues faced by America today.

Competition will include the preparation of a minute-long television script to be patterned after the CBS television networks' 200 years ago today "Bicentennial Minutes," a commentary discussing the significance of the "minute" for today and the lessons it contains for the future; and a current events examination emphasizing issues and events from the past year.

High school seniors should see their principal for details on how to participate in this scholarship program. Applications must be filed no later than October 6, 1975.

The program is administered by NASSP and is funded by the Shell Oil Company. "Bicentennial Seniors" is endorsed by the American Revolution Bicentennial Administration.

It's Time To Repot House Plants

Late summer and early fall is an ideal time to repot house plants, points out a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Repotting prepares house plants for the winter season and improve their overall performance," says Everette Janne.

Use of a good soil mix gets the repotting process off to a good start. Such a mix be made by mixing two parts each of garden loam and peat moss and one part of sand. Well rotted manure or shredded leaf mold may be substituted for the peat moss.

"Garden soil alone is seldom suitable for potting plants because it is usually too low in organic matter," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. "A good soil mixture provides the three things most needed by potted plants--support, good soil aeration, and ability to hold adequate moisture and nutrients."

Janne recommends pasteurizing the soil mixture to kill disease organisms, insects, and weed seeds. This can be done by putting the soil mixture in a shallow pan and placing it in a preheated oven at 200 degrees F. for 30 minutes. The soil should be moist but now wet before placing it in the oven.

"As soon as the soil cools, use it to pot new plants or reset old ones. Always use clean tools and new pots or you will reinfest the soil with harmful organisms. Sterilize used clay pots the same as the soil, and wash plastic pots thoroughly in hot soapy water," advises Janne.

A simpler and much easier way to handle pot plants in the home is to purchase the prepared mixes available in your nursery or garden supply center, he adds.

KC Picnic Termed Success

The annual Knights of Columbus picnic was held Sept. 21 at the KC Hall with a large crowd attending despite the cold and wet weather.

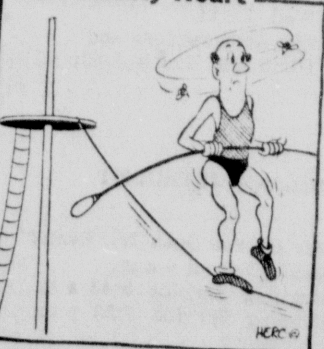

A meal of sausage and beef and all the trimmings was sold for supper. Games and refreshments were on the grounds and music was furnished by Der Rhein Steins of Cameron.

Drawing for prizes was held at 7:30 p.m. and the following names were drawn:

Jeff Mondrik of Cameron, first prize deep freeze; Anton Anderle of Cameron, second prize, 10-speed bicycle; Mrs. Lydia Terry of Cameron, chest cooler; Mrs. Marie Tucker of Cameron, meat smoker.

The Lonely Heart

VA Increases Home Loan Interest Rate

The Veterans Administration increased its home loan mortgage interest rate ceiling from 8-1/2 percent to 9 percent, effective September 2.

The increase was made in accordance with a joint Veterans Administration and Department of Housing and Urban Development policy of keeping the maximum rate in line with actual mortgage market conditions and to keep discount points to a minimum.

The increase was necessary to permit the VA to maintain its mortgage interest rate ceiling at a level consistent with the demands of the loan market, Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, said. If the interest rate is allowed to fall behind the market, the availability of money for VA loans becomes seriously impaired, he added.

Sizable discounts arise when the VA interest rate ceiling does not reflect market conditions.

"THE SHOCK OF YOUR LIFE" was the title of the demonstration program that Dominic Riola and Christopher Riola of the Cameron 4-H Club presented as part of the You Can Do It series in Gause and Davilla this month. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Riola of Cameron.

Family Film To Be Shown At Tabernacle

"Time to Run", a film that is a mixture of problems and solutions, will be shown at Cameron Gospel Tabernacle at 214 E. 4 St., Cameron on October 5. The feature, filmed in Eastman-color by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Filmed on location in the Southern California area, Time to Run stars Ed Nelson, Randall Carver, Barbara Sigel, Joan Winmill, and Gordon Rigsby. Nelson plays Warren Cole, a hard-driving success-oriented industrial and scientific engineer who, because of over-involvement with his work, has failed to communicate with his wife Fran, played by Joan Winmill, or their son Jeff, played by screen newcomer Randall Carver.

Time to Run allows the viewer to become involved on any one or more of the three different levels. Viewed purely as entertainment, it's the suspenseful story of Jeff's attempts at sabotage in the nuclear generating plant conceived, designed, and managed by his father. Jeff strongly feels that the plant is a threat to the environment, and he puts his feelings into action.

Viewed on an emotional level, Time to Run is the deeply moving drama of the conflicts that are tearing a family apart - conflicts that develop between husband and wife, and between father and son. In an attempt to find freedom from the evergrowing hostilities, Jeff takes to the road, hoping to discover some meaning in his confused life.

Benches Offer Yard Storage

Garden storage units doubling as benches at poolside, on a patio or along a fence offer easily accessible storage for bulky items used outdoors.

Built on frames of 4x4-inch Douglas fir or western pine, the benches can be large or small, scaled to surroundings. Hinged lids, allowing easy access, can be covered with cushions for lounging comfort.

Storage benches keep garden tools, barbecue supplies, pool equipment or toys close at hand.

TALENT SPOTLIGHT '75

DONALD KOMAR

AARON MILLER

Donald Komar has the experience needed in filling the quarterback shoes and defensive halfback slot for the undefeated Yoemen after an outstanding job on the JV last season.

Now this 5'5", 155 lb. junior fills these prominent positions on the tough Yoemen team.

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Komar of 1503 N. Fannin. He has one sister, Debbie, who is married.

Donald's athletic ability is very apparent on the "No. 1" Yoe team, but he also exhibits this same ability in his participation in J.V. basketball and in baseball.

Outside school, Donald is still quite a sportsman. He enjoys hunting, fishing, and bowling. During the summer he worked for Milam Grain Co.

When asked how he felt about the way Cameron played against its competition so far, Donald replied: "I feel we have one an impressive job against the 3A teams. Against Rockdale we made a lot of bad mistakes and they are a tough team."

Yoe J.V. Falls To Belton, 7-6

It couldn't have been any closer, but it could have gone the other way for the Yoe junior varsity when they fell short by one point against the Belton JV in Thursday night football action, 7-6.

The Yoe JV entertained a lean throughout the contest until the Tigers had the punch on the PAT that gave them the one point advantage.

The Yoe JV opened the scoring in the second quarter when Joe Reyes blazed in from 65 yards out on a fake punt. The PAT for 2 failed and the Yoe JV took a slight command of the home turf.

The defensive head-kicker lasted until the 4th quarter when the Tiger offense took advantage of what Coach Hoelscher called "lack of mental discipline" and started a 50 yard drive that was culminated on a one-yard plunge for 6.

The point after proved to be the difference between the clubs with the Tigers having the educated toe for one.

Coach Hoelscher said, "Defensively, I was real proud of Richard Raymond along with Stanley Shigut, Michael Knight, and Allen Richardson."

SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By FORREST GUESS

Rest-Time...

Since the Cameron Yoemen have entered their new athletic complex, the team has knocked off every opponent.

It sounds like "Wild Kingdom," first it was a Duck, 27-6; then two Tigers. The Rockdale Tigers had a louder roar, showing the best offense and defense the Yoemen have been tested against, 22-19. Then it was a "Big Red" Tiger, crowning their jungle for 4 years but losing it to the Yoemen, 21-0.

Now it is time for the Yoemen to rest and recover, for now the team will enter where every win counts.

Playing those fine 3A teams will help condition the Yoemen for future battles where the going might get tough. Experience will be the key for the Yoemen, going into district competition October 3 against Leander.

Rest Yoemen, you're "Number One."

Yoe Band...

After viewing a sneak-preview of the Yoe High band, Monday night, it's going to be a thrill to watch the band in their performance against the Leander Lions.

Jerry Bartley, Yoe High band director, has put together an all new show featuring some interesting designs and in the rehearsal the band was giving a "number one" effort.

It's always nice to have a first place band along with a first place football team.

Jr. High Band...

I have received word that the junior high band hall has received carpet for the building at O. J. Thomas. The Citizens National Bank has given the old carpet to the junior high band for use in their band hall.

The bank is currently undergoing some enlarging, remodeling, and recarpeting. The O. J. Thomas building will be placing the carpet on their floors to help the acoustics.

Overall, We Are Proud...

"We are real proud of the Yoemen' performance against the Belton Tigers," Coach Cauley started the Monday night booster club meeting. "It's always nice to beat Belton, especially on their home ground."

"The first few plays the Tigers started off like Rockdale, but they didn't enjoy the success the Rockdale team did," Cauley said.

"The main weak point of the game," Cauley said, "was our kicking game, and we plan to work quite hard on this area during our off-week."

"It's nice to have a break between the district competition and these three tough 3A games. We gave the young men Monday off and they will all get back Tuesday for regular workouts," Cauley said.

As far as injuries, Cauley commented, "We're in pretty good shape. Except for Jeffery Simmons and Kenneth Scott. These two will be out of contact for this week but will be ready by next Monday's workouts."

"Belton doesn't like to pass but we forced them into that part of their game and it just didn't work. We were just doing an excellent job containing the Tigers," Cauley said.

About this week's plans Coach Cauley said, "We're just going to use it as a learning experience and iron out some kinks."

The Bell Is A Permanent Traveling Trophy

By Forrest Guess
Sports Editor

The question of whether the Victory Bell is a moving bell was answered by Rockdale Sandow Railroad General Manager, Mr. J. R. Goley. Goley said, "The victory bell between Rockdale and Cameron is a permanent traveling trophy."

The "Victory Bell" was taken off of Steam Engine #3 that was retired in 1951. The steam engine was used as a connecting source between the main-line and Alcoa.

THE VICTORY BELL

The railroad company paid for the machining and polishing of the bell, and it was decided to be built and given to both school systems, Rockdale and Cameron.

The Rockdale Sandow and Southern Railroad Co. has given bells to schools in the East St. Louis area also.

The bell has added dimension to the Milam County rivals since 1952 with the Yoemen having claimed the Victory Bell for the past five years.

The Victory Bell will continue to be claimed for one year after the winner is determined in the annual Milam County football classic.

Grand Prix. A thoroughbred at the track and on the road.

Starting now, there's no need to settle for an also-ran imitation Grand Prix. Because we've just made the real thing so affordable.

In fact, it's as easy to own as a lot of mid-sized cars. And Grand Prix gives you all the makings of a champion.

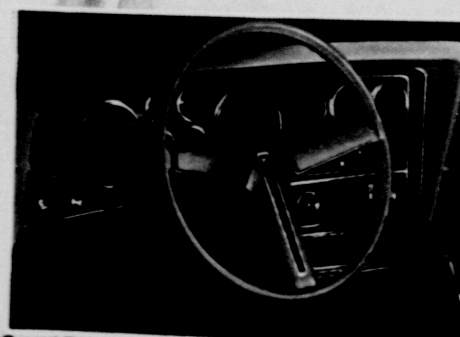

Like a responsive 350 V-8. Variable-ratio power steering. Power front disc brakes. Steel-belted radial tires. And Pontiac's famed Radial Tuned Suspension. To help you through the turns as well as the stretches.

You also have the inside track on comfort. With a plush interior featuring special touches like a custom cushion steering wheel. A cockpit-like instrument panel. Cut-pile carpeting. An electric clock. And a column-mounted dimmer switch.

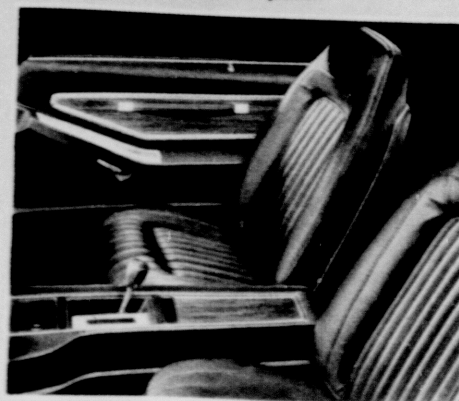

Find out what it's like to ride with a winner. The '76 Grand Prix is the latest in a long line of thoroughbred personal cars from Pontiac.

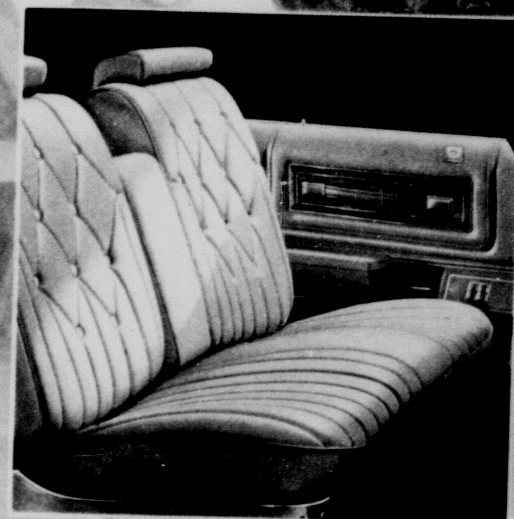

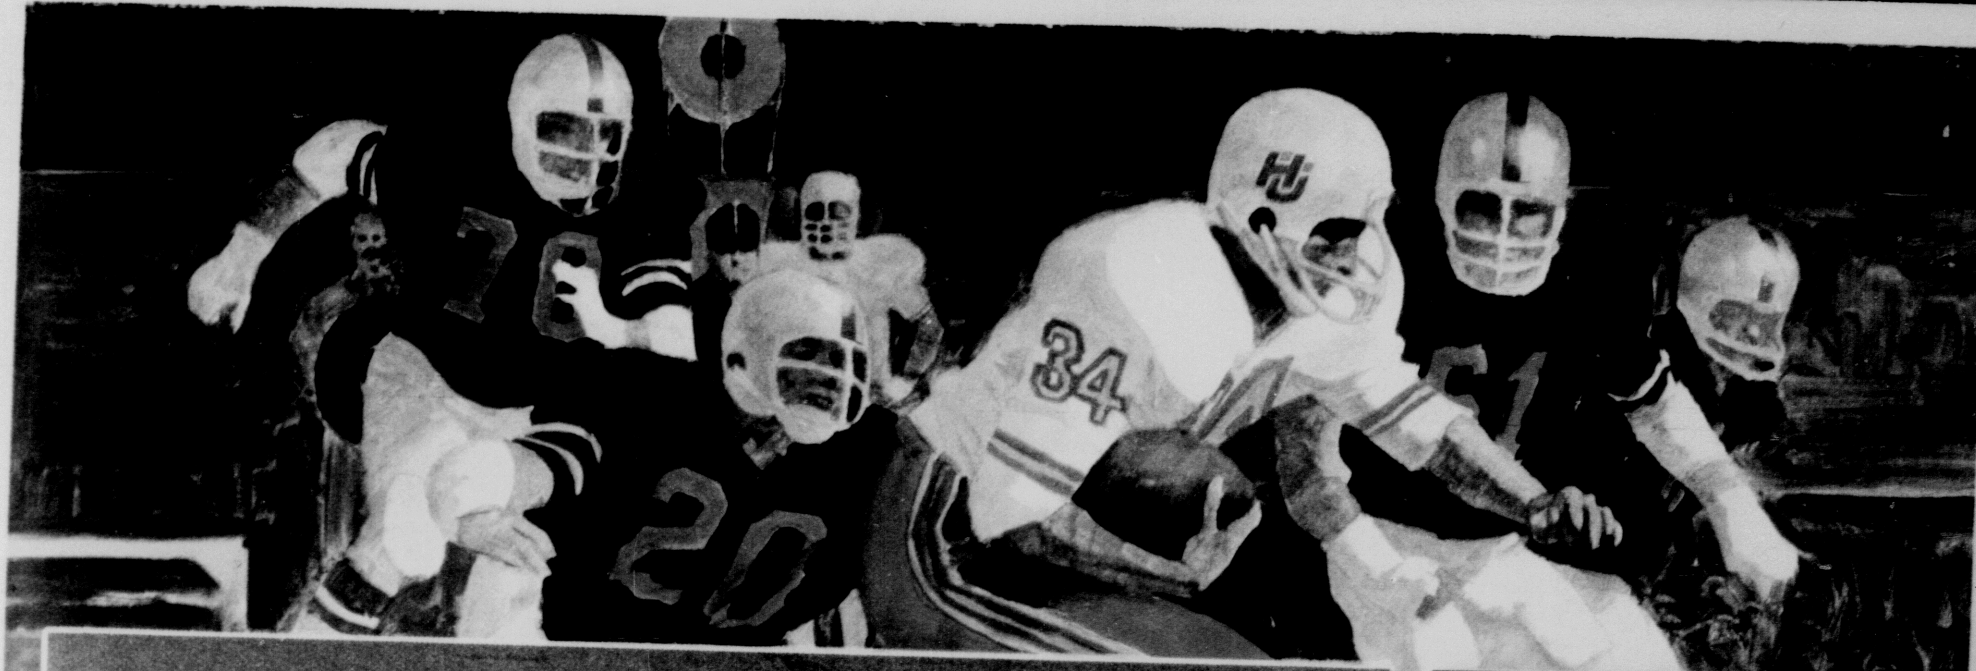

Grand Prix's standard full-width notchback seat.

Grand Prix SJ's instrument panel.

Grand Prix LJ's available leather bucket seats.

Bonneville Brougham's handsome interior.

Bonneville Brougham. A smooth performer that takes long runs in stride.

Impressive. Even for an all-star like the '76 Bonneville Brougham. It's Pontiac's new luxury leader. A pro all the way. Pontiacs just don't come any plusher than this one. Plush enough to almost make you forget where you're going. But don't worry. Bonneville Brougham's 400 V-8 and Radial Tuned Suspension will get you there on time —smoothly, quietly, in style. And you can't ask for much more than that. Even from a pro like Pontiac.

Grand Safari's standard interior.

Grand Safari. One of the league's classiest workhorses.

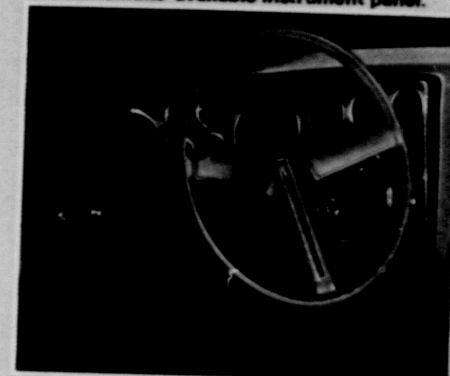

If plenty of running room is part of your game plan, take a page out of Pontiac's '76 playbook. Go with a winner. The '76 Grand Safari.

It's simply one of the plushest wagons Pontiac's ever built. And one of the smoothest riding. Thanks to Pontiac's Radial Tuned Suspension.

So load a lot of passengers. Or open the Glide-away tailgate and load up to 105-cu.-ft. of cargo. Turn the key. And run to daylight in a '76 Grand Safari.

Grand LeMans' available instrument panel.

Grand LeMans. A mid-sized Pontiac so plush it's bound to make some big waves.

Leave it to Pontiac to make a big splash in the mid-sized market. With the luxurious new 1976 Grand LeMans.

Its elegant new styling and superb engineering should make Grand LeMans a favorite in its class.

That goes for long cruises, too. Where Grand LeMans is outfitted with luxurious appointments and a smooth-sailing Radial Tuned Suspension to pass even the toughest shakedown with flying colors.

And just in case you want to run with the larger, more luxurious classes, there's a shipload of equipment you can order. Like automatic temperature control air conditioning. A sunroof. Your choice of four different styles of cordova tops. And a small, yet spirited 260 V-8.

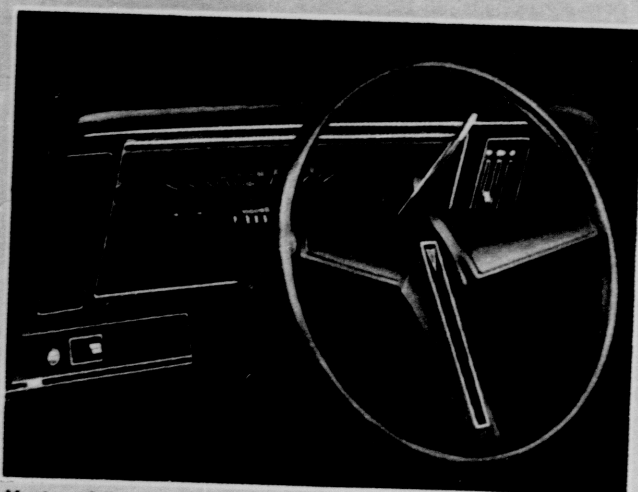

1976 Pontiac Grand LeMans. The pride of the LeMans fleet.

Grand LeMans 2-door Hardtop Coupe.

Ventura SJ. Top seeded among people who know compacts.

Ventura SJ's standard instrument panel.

Ventura SJ's available bucket seats.

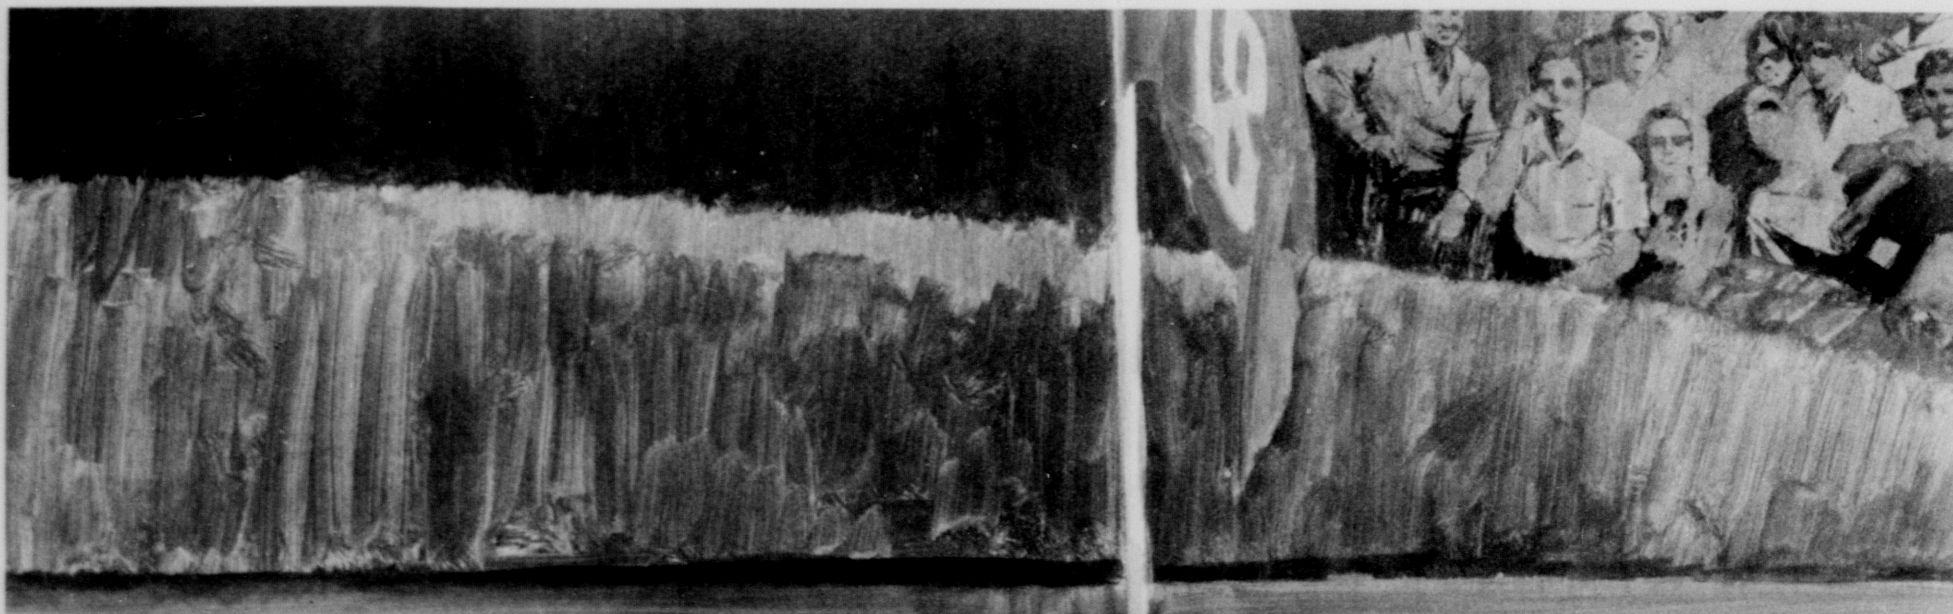

Anyone for comfort, style and performance? You don't have to hit the international circuit to find all three in a great 4-door sedan. Pontiac's compact Ventura SJ offers it all.

Its plush interior is reminiscent of those found in more expensive imported sedans. With cloth or Morrokide upholstery. Cut-pile carpeting. A custom cushion steering wheel. Even map pockets on the doors!

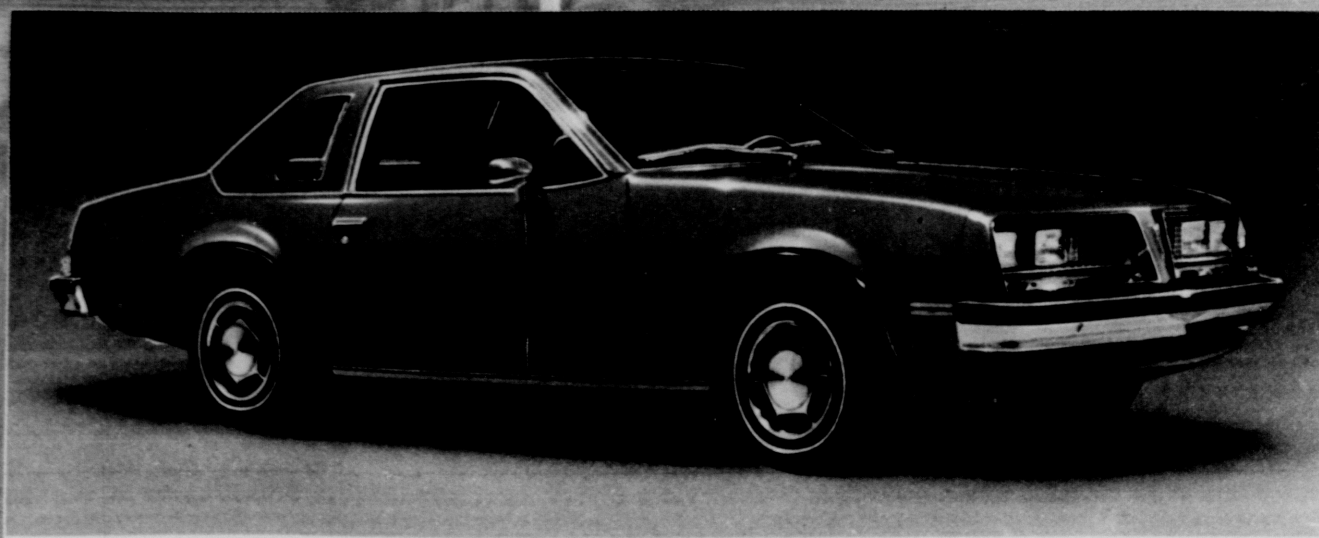

Ventura SJ's scored some points in engineering, too. With a High Energy Electronic Ignition. A practical maintenance schedule that allows Ventura SJ to go up to 7,500 miles between scheduled oil changes. And up to 22,500 miles between scheduled spark plug changes. To help you with your operating expenses.

And a tough 250-cu.-in. Six. Or any of three available V-8's. Including the small 260 V-8.

1976 Ventura SJ. It looks like Pontiac just aced the competition again!

Sunbird

Announcing the first Sunbird.
A stylish little Pontiac that's sure to be one of this year's big winners.

Sunbird's available custom interior.

Let the tour begin. Sunbird has arrived. And the small car field will probably never be the same again. Just check Sunbird's scorecard.

It starts with a look that's got Pontiac written all over it. With dual rectangular headlamps set in a bold split grille.

It follows through to an interior that's pure clubhouse. With contoured front bucket seats. Cut-pile carpeting. A deluxe steering wheel. And a cockpit-like instrument panel.

And finishes up with a 4-cylinder engine and floor-mounted 3-speed as standard equipment. With an available 231 V-6 and new 5-speed transmission to back them up. For Pontiac's kind of performance.

Pontiac's first Sunbird. It looks like a winner already.

Sunbird's instrument panel with available rally gauges.

Astre's available custom interior.

Astre. The little Pontiac that handles long drives as well as short putts.

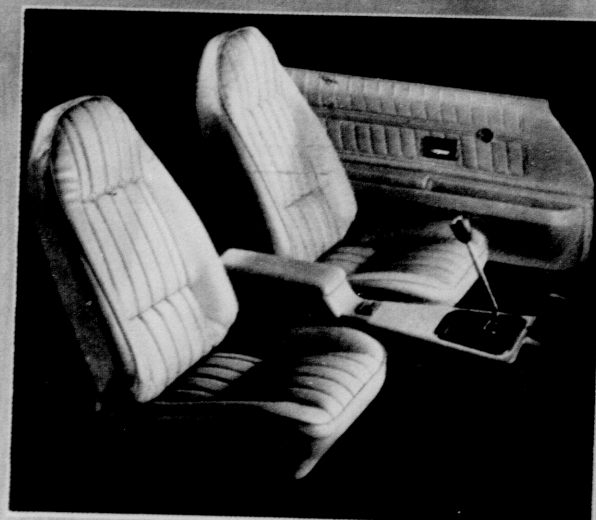

Efficient operation is par for the course for the '76 Pontiac Astre. It's got just the right equipment to handle the entire tour. Like a nifty 140-cu.-in. 4-cylinder engine. And an available 5-speed.

This one can go the long route, too. Up to 7,500 miles between scheduled oil changes. And up to 22,500 miles between scheduled spark plug changes. To help save you money on maintenance.

A little Pontiac that goes a long way with plenty of style. That's Astre.

Firebird's standard interior.

Formula Firebird. A truly exciting sport.

With one brilliant stroke, Pontiac combined plenty of style, comfort and performance in the '76 Formula Firebird. The result is truly impressive. One look at the dramatic Formula Appearance Package you can order will tell you that.

But make the tour. And discover a bucket seat interior as comfortable as a 5-stroke lead. And top-notch equipment for a championship performance.

1976 Formula Firebird. It's the next best thing to a hole-in-one.
